Entered at the Post Office at Janesville, Wis., as second-class matter.

JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, FRIDAY, MAY 12, 1882.

Published Every Evening Except Sunday, at $7 a Year.

NUMBER 50

Ex-State Senator J. B. Treat, of Monroe, has been appointed by the President a member of the Visiting Board for West Point Military Academy.

A report from Madison says "a prominent worker in the temperance ranks in that city asserts that temperance work is being constantly done in a political way and that he thought that the temperance people would next fall put in nomination about a dozen candidates for the Legislature, and that besides this they would succeed in obtaining pledges from nominees of the old parties."

The reason why the Democrats object to the bill establishing a court of appeals for the United States, is that the majority of the judges to be appointed under the bill would be Republicans as a matter of course, and to this the Democrats object. If the administration were Democratic, and Congress Democratic, the bill would go through with a rush and approved on short notice.

Mr. J. T. Clarke, formerly superintendent of the Union Pacific, and now general superintendent of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul company, was presented with a Chickering grand piano and a check for four thousand dollars from the officers and employees of the Union Pacific. As a mark of esteem this action is one over which Mr. Clarke may justly feel proud.

The Society of the Army of the Tennessee held a meeting at St. Louis this week which was largely attended. Brief speeches were made by General Phil Sheridan, General Pope, General Belknap, of Iowa; Governor Rusk, of this State. Charles Pope, the actor, recited "Sheridan's Ride," and the session closed with an expression of thanks to the audience by General Sherman and the singing of "Marching through Georgia."

It is said that Mr. Charles E. Ball, who died at Madison on Sunday night, had an insurance policy on his life of $15,000, and of this amount $5,000 was in one company, and the premium on this had been paid up to Saturday noon previous, and no further. According to rule, Mr. Ball had forfeited his insurance, but the company carrying the policy seems to be exceptionally fair, and has given notice that it will pay the loss all the same. The very harsh saying that corporations have no souls, has an exception now and then.

An attempt will be made by some of the Democrats to prove that the Pond liquor law of Ohio is unconstitutional. They don't like it because it is having a bad effect on the liquor interest of that State. But in other respects the law is working admirably. Nearly all the saloons were closed in Cincinnati on Sunday last, and peace and order reigned throughout the city. With so many evidences in its favor it is probable that there will be an almost unanimous sentiment in favor of its enforcement as soon as the people become a little used to the new order of things.

The latest from Eureka Springs, Arkansas, does not give any hope that Governor Washburn will recover. He went to Arkansas three months ago to seek the benefit of the water there. He was suffering with paralysis and Bright's disease. On last Saturday morning a dispatch says, "he was taken suddenly worse, and became delirious, in which condition he has since continued. On Sunday night he had an apoplectic seizure, and on Tuesday night his physicians thought him to be in a dangerous condition. He has since rallied somewhat, but his present condition is still critical. His brother, Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, is with him, and also his daughter and son-in-law, the Hon. Charles Payson, late United States Minister to Denmark."

On the first of June the new exemption law goes into effect, and one of the oldest justices in Milwaukee says it will seriously curtail the business in justices' courts. The second section of the new law reads as follows:

Section 2. Section 2,985 of the revised statutes of 1878 is hereby amended by adding to the end of said section the following: Provided, that all married persons, or all other persons who have to provide for the entire support of a family in this State, who have no homestead, shall be entitled to an exemption from seizure or sale on execution as aforesaid, of five hundred dollars in money or other property, in lieu of said homestead; provided, that the property or earnings hereinbefore in this act mentioned shall not be exempt from garnishment or attachment or from sale under execution for any debt contracted prior to the first day of June, A. D. 1882.

The Pennsylvania Republican State Convention, which met yesterday at Harrisburg, nominated the following State ticket:

For Governor—General James A. Beaver, of Bellefonte.
For Lieutenant Governor—State Senator W. T. Davies.
For Judge of the Supreme Court—William H. Rawle, of Philadelphia.
For Secretary of Internal Affairs—Charles M. Greer, of Butler.
For Congressman-at-Large—Thomas M. Marshall, of Allegheny.

Two of the men on this ticket—Rowle and Marshall, are what might be called anti-Stalwarts. The others belong to the Cameron clan. There is talk of bolting by the anti-Cameronites, but when they sober down and take a second thought they will do something better than bolt. "The convention adopted resolutions in favor of civil service reform and of the fair and honest treatment of the Indians, indorsing the administrations of President Arthur and Governor Hoyt, and deprecating the untimely death of President Garfield."

A VICTIM OF GAMBLERS.

MILWAUKEE, May 11.—A young man named Meisner, who has been employed as bookkeeper in the Milwaukee cement company, has disappeared. He has been a victim of gamblers who are running a private room on the West Side. He is said to have taken $700 belonging to the cement company, and altogether the gamblers fleeced him out of $1,100. Meisner's friends think that he has been foully dealt with as well as robbed at the game. The detectives took charge of the case to-night. There is considerable excitement over the affair. Meisner has been a favorite among his acquaintances, and is a talented young fellow. There are three or four private gambling-houses in the city, which have been opened since the public places were closed.

EX-GOVERNOR WASHBURN.

He is Still Alive, but in a Very Critical Condition.

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark., May 11.—Ex-Governor Washburn, of Wisconsin, came to this place three months since to seek the benefit of these waters. He was suffering with paralysis and Bright's disease. On Saturday morning, the 5th inst., he was taken suddenly worse and became delirious, in which condition he has since continued. On Sunday night he had an apoplectic seizure, and on Tuesday night his physicians thought him to be in a dangerous condition. He has since rallied somewhat, but his present condition is still critical. His brother, Mr. E. B. Washburne, of Illinois, is with him and also his daughter and son-in-law, the Hon. Charles Payson, late United States minister to Denmark.

IRELAND'S AFFLICTION.

CHICAGO, May 12.—The Morning News received the following cable to-night:

LONDON, May 11.—To the Editor of the Morning News, Chicago: No new arrests of importance were made to-day. It is feared now that the murderers will escape.

The new coercion bill will be introduced to-night and it is expected it will pass both houses without delay.

The letter from Michael Davitt in the Standard this morning has produced a deep impression. The feeling here continues calm.

(Signed) DILLON.

LATER.

Gladstone's new coercion bill is admitted by both sides to be the most severe ever introduced. It was denounced in the Commons by Parnell and Dillon, and the government warned that it would make things worse than ever in Ireland. Dillon asserted that it would render constitutional government impossible. It will probably force Parnell and his friends to retire from public life for the present.

WISCONSIN MATTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 11.—Representative Guenther, of Wisconsin, having been successful thus far in his attempts to legislate important bills through Congress, is about to try his hand upon a bigger game. He believes that if the plan to have postal money orders and the benefits therefrom were brought to the attention of Congress, the system would be soon established. There is some doubt about getting a bill through at this late day, yet there is nothing to lose and everything to gain by beginning a discussion of the question now. Mr. Guenther has examined the matter, and believes in its usefulness and practicality.

Mr. Deuster, representing the Milwaukee district, was one of the seven who voted against establishing another cabinet office, to be held by a secretary of agriculture. The other six were Messrs. Dezenhoff, of Virginia, Evans, of South Carolina, Hardy, of New York, Herbert and Herndon, of Alabama, and Seales, of North Carolina.

Representative Humphrey, of Wisconsin, a member of the committee on judiciary, made an able argument in the House this afternoon in support of the majority report on the bill to dispose of the unexpended balance of the Geneva award.

Ex-Senator Treat, of Monroe, was today appointed by the President a member of the visiting board for the West Point Academy.

Never Too Late to Mend.

Thos. J. Arden, William street, East Buffalo, writes: "Your Spring Blossom has worked on me splendidly. ## RAGING RIVERS.

She had been in Milwaukee, and it is thought an unsuccessful love affair there prompted this rash deed.

IMMIGRATION.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Eight steamships arrived in port this morning from Europe. The Halveta, from Liverpool, brought 1,222 immigrants. The Abyssinia brought over about 600 passengers, the majority of the passengers on both vessels being Irish. The State of Florida, from Glasgow, brought 900 immigrants, and the Circassia, from Glasgow, 838. The Dorian and Scotia landed 542. ## A MURDERER'S CONFESSION.

GREEN BAY, Wis., May 11.—About twenty-five years ago a young Belgian named Clement Bolter came here, and it is reported formed an intimacy with a man named Belanger. They started for Manitowoc one day, Bolter taking a double-barreled gun with him. Belanger returned in the evening alone. Shortly after, the dead body of Bolter was found in the woods, with his head riddled with shot and a gun lying by his side. Yesterday Belanger, now an old man of 83, was seen wandering about the streets in a half-crazed manner, acting as though he thought he was being followed. In the evening he confessed to several persons, at different times, that he murdered Bolter. He states that after they had gone some distance he told Bolter he would carry the gun, and allowing him to get in advance, he fired at his head and Bolter fell dead. He dragged the body into a thicket and secured $1,500 which he had in a belt. Belanger was suspected at the time. He says the face of the murdered man is ever before him, and the sight was maddening. He was placed in the lock-up last night. The matter is now in the hands of the authorities. The man is seemingly insane. He belongs in Fort Howard.

MASON'S WIFE.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The wife of Sergeant Mason has made a strong appeal to President Arthur. The President said he had great sympathy for her, and the petitions for the pardon of her husband will be laid before the Cabinet. Mrs. Mason was very much affected by the President's words.

SUICIDE.

CHARLOTTE, Mich., May 11.—Irwin, the 25-year-old son of Richard Mann, a well-to-do farmer, of Cornell township, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by hanging himself in a barn. He was married Sunday last to Miss Kepley, of Bellevue. No cause was ascertained.

SMALL-POX.

MILWAUKEE, May 11.—There are twelve cases of small-pox in the town of Mackford, Green Lake county, on the edge of Lake Marie. The disease was brought by some German emigrants who arrived a short time ago. The town authorities have taken action in the matter, and will, if possible, prevent further spreading. It is now confined to two German families.

SOME MEXICAN STATISTICS.

Neighboring Republic of Which We Know Little.

Mexico is a Federal republic, comprising twenty-seven States, one Territory and one Federal district, that of the capital. The total area is 741,213 square miles, with a population of 10,000,000. This population is classified, each race and mixed grade having its own separate name and special status. The pure races are classified under three Spanish names, as white, Indian and negro. The various race mixtures furnish the Mexicans with twenty-one separately-named grades. There are about 50,000 foreign whites, 1,000,000 native whites or creoles, 5,000,000 Indians, and the balance are mixed races, with a few pure negroes. One-tenth of the Mexican nation, occupying chiefly the table lands, and residing mostly in the cities, own nearly all the developed mines, lands and other property. The remaining nine-tenths are the laboring classes.

With the most favorable results it must be years before the railroad companies shall reap their full reward, yet it is not impossible if no financial depression shall interfere, and provided the Mexican Government proves able to meet its subsidy promises, that such roads as shall be economically built and honestly managed may at least pay expenses from the beginning. In this connection is worth noting the population of the leading cities to be connected by each road.

Of these, Tampico and Minatitlan are Atlantic coast towns, and Guaymas, Altata, San Blas, Mazatlan and Tepic are on the Pacific coast. The others in the interior are with few exceptions at an elevation of from 4,000 to 7,000 feet above the sea, and enjoy a fertility of soil and salubrity of climate which accounts in part for their greater population. The mineral wealth of Mexico is generally estimated at greater than that of any other country. Since the Spanish conquest, 300 years ago, the only large Mexican exports have been gold and silver. About 5,000 mines have been developed, and some that were worked by the Aztecs, before the days of Cortez, are still yielding rich returns to their English and German owners. Rich mines exist throughout nearly the entire length of the country, and quite two-thirds of its breadth among the Cordillera valleys, table-lands and spurs or ridges. In fact, it is the mines that have built the ancient inland cities of Mexico, and in nearly every city there is a Government mint. In harbors and rivers Mexico is wanting. With the single exception of Guaymas, there is not a decent harbor on either coast, and there is no navigable river. Americans will find this picturesque neighbor of ours well worth closer acquaintance, and there is little doubt that, with the completion of these roads, there will be a very large crowd of visitors to that country, many of whom will go to stay.
